DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgment of Papers Received: Amendment and Response filed 1/25/04

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 46-68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The examiner requires clarification to the scope of the claimed invention. Applicant claims a composition comprising a mixture both free from polyphenols, and permitting polyphenols. The examiner is unclear to the presence or absence of polyphenols in the resultant product. Clarification of this matter is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
5. Claims 46 – 68 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combined disclosures of Friedman et al. (USPN 4,446,161 hereafter '161) and Kumani et al

Art Unit: 1615

(USPN 4,927,651 hereafter '651). The claims are drawn to an antimicrobial composition comprising at least two lipophilic GRAS flavor alcohols.

6. The '161 patent teaches a preservative system comprising aromatic monohydric alcohols selected from the group consisting of benzyl alcohol, 2-phenyl ethanol, 1-phenyl-2-butanol and 3-phenyl-1-propanol (col. 3, lin. 51-59). The food composition is for human consumption (col. 4, lin. 1-10). The provision of an acid medium is accomplished by the addition of acetic, citric malic and lactic acids (col. 7, lin. 1-7). The reference however is lacking a disclosure of the combination of monohydric alcohols with additional polyphenols. However the '651 patent discloses food preservative system comprising the addition of polyphenols (col. 1, lin. 38-43, claim10). A skilled artisan would have been motivated to combine the polyphenols of '651 in order to impart antioxidant, sterilization and deodorizing properties onto the formulation of '161.

One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to combine the teachings and suggestions of the art in order to impart further benefits on to the antibacterial preservative compound of '161. It is prima facie obvious to combine two compositions each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose, in order to form a third composition to be used for the very same purpose. The idea of combining them flows logically from their having been individually taught in the prior art. See In re Kerkhoven, 626 F.2d 846, 850, 205 USPQ 1069, 1072 (CCPA 1980). It would have been obvious to a skilled artisan to combine the teachings as such with an expected result of an antibacterial preservative with aromatic, deodorizing, and sterilization properties.

Election/Restrictions

7. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: mixture A comprising a mixture of two or more lipophilic alcohols, and mixture B comprising benzyl alcohol, polyphenols and organic acids.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, 46 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Micah-Paul Young whose telephone number is 571-272-0608. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F 7:00-4:30 every other Monday off.
